ABOUT OUR WORKSHOP

Human Resources is often asked to be a strategic partner in delivering the organization's mission. It is tasked with securing talent, building the organization's workforce, and enabling performance.

The challenge has been not just how to accomplish all of these but how to do it in a simple, integrated way.

In the span of five days, our workshop participants will learn the fundamentals of how to link the four most critical areas of Human Resources, namely: Job Design and Job Evaluation, Compensation Management and Compensation Design, Skills Measurement, and Performance Management.

The workshop will leverage new Community™ tools including the new Job Design and the Skills Recruitment modules, along with the Job Evaluation, Skills Assessment, and Performance Evaluation tools used in past workshops.
